sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, the color will be a thin milky hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this disease, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will

THE POLITICAL BATTLE-GROUND

The Chicago Tribune, figuring on the next Presidential campaign, says: The near approach of the Presidential election is the signal for the figuring fiend to make his appearance. At ready people are beginning to discuss what States are likely to go Republican and what are likely to go Democratic, and to make combinations of the electoral vote to see how it foots up. The total electoral vote for the country is 431, of which 201 is a majority. Of this total the sixteen Southern States have 153 votes. The "Solid South," with the thirty six votes of New York, the fifteen of Indiana and nine of New Jersey, make a grand total of 213. Conceding that Mahone carries the twelve votes of Virginia for the Republican nominee, there would still be 201 left, which is a majority. Supposing that the Democrats lost Indiana, they would have to carry Connecticut (six votes), California (eight) and Nevada (three), to make it up which would be a total of 213. But losing New York, the Democrats, to elect their man, would be compelled to carry some other large Northern State, for the Solid South, with New Jersey, Connecticut, Indiana, California and Nevada, would only give 194 votes, or seven short of a majority. Hence it would be necessary for them to carry Ohio, Illinois or Wisconsin to make up this deficiency. The election hinges mainly on the result in New York. With it the Republicans are sure to elect their candidate, but they may win without New York if they carry Virginia and Indiana. With New York the Democrats are almost sure of victory, for they have only then to carry Indiana and the South, and even should Virginia be carried by the Republicans New Jersey would make up for it. If Indiana and Virginia were both carried by the Republicans then the Democrats would have to carry, in addition to New York and the South, New Jersey, Connecticut, California and Nevada, and they would still have 208 electoral votes. Thus the great battle of 1884 is to be fought in New York, with heavy skirmishing in Indiana and Virginia.

President Arthur has rapidly risen and is still rising in favor with the people whose Chief Magistrate he has the honor of being. The welcome tendered him everywhere on his trip from Louisville to Chicago, while it evinced loyalty and patriotism, at the same time showed that the present incumbent of the Presidential office is held in high esteem. His Secretaries are also very popular, particularly Lincoln and Graham, and so they ought to be for the straightforward and competent manner in which they have conducted their parts in the administration of National affairs has shown ability, honesty and accurate conception of the duties of their respective offices.

The bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad, with interest payable by the United States, has a principal outstanding of $64,693,512; interest accrued not yet paid, $323,117; interest paid by the United States, $59,222,093; interest repaid by the companies by transportation service, $15,777,380; by cash payment of 5 per cent on net earnings, $655,198; balance of interest paid by the United States, $41,789,514.

Reports received at the Postoffice from twenty-five of the larger Post-offices show an increase in the sale of postage stamps, postal cards, etc., for the quarter ending June 30, 1883, over the corresponding period of the previous year, of $232,457, or about six per cent. These offices, in the second quarter of 1882, collected about thirty-four per cent of the total revenue direct.

A vessel infected with yellow fever has arrived at Victoria, B. C., from Rio Janeiro. Several died during the voyage and one seaman is now sick. The doctors declare that the disease is yellow fever, although the officers of the ship were under the idea that it was smallpox.

A Texas paper advocates holding the next Democratic National Convention in Galveston, pleading that for nearly a quarter of a century no party has held a National Convention in a Southern city.

Sentiment in favor of biennial sessions of the Legislature is growing in Massachusetts.

KEARNEY ON THE WING.

The Sand Lot Fraud Rebuked by an Ex-Leader in the Workingman's Party.

Among the passengers for the west yesterday morning was the prince of frauds, Dennis Kearney, and his partner Stephen M. Bell. There was quite a crowd of people at the depot and among the number D. M. Glossater, at one time a shining light in the sand lot party, of which Kearney was the acknowledged head, and who furnished the brains for Kearney and many other leaders in that movement. Kearney recognized his old friend the moment he alighted from the car and made haste to greet him. Glossater reluctantly accepted the outstretched hand of the sand lot chief and firmly held it for a moment with that contemptuous expression of countenance which foretold the utterance of "It has been a long time since we met, Mr. Kearney," said Glossater, "but I have watched your career closely, and I am convinced that you are the biggest and the worst fraud this generation has produced. You started in the right direction, and by using the brains of others managed to gain position and power you never earned or deserved and then for coin sold out to the enemy."

"You are mistaken, Mr. Glossater," said Kearney, pleadingly, "you are mistaken, I—"

"No I am not," said Glossater, "I know what I am talking about. You are now wearing the corporation collar, and have been for a long time. The railroads own you, body and soul. They bought and paid for you—paid more than you were worth, too."

The great sand-lot oracle remonstrated in an undertone that could not be heard, and made an effort to back into the car, but the massive form of the Sierra Valley chieftain prevented his retreat.

"You are now in the employ of railroads," continued Glossater, with an increased tone of voice, "paying four way with railroad money, and riding on a railroad p—"

"I pay my own way sir," said Dennis, "I spend my own money, and am under obligations to no accursed corporation."

"Stop!" shouted Glossater, "have you a ticket?"

"Yes, sir," emphatically replied Dennis, "You have not," said Glossater, "you are riding on a pass from Stanford, and I challenge you to produce a ticket," and shoving his hand into his pocket produced a hand full of twenties, and shaking the shining tufts under the pug nose of the sand-lot orator, continued: "I'll give you a hundred dollars to show me your ticket. You can't do it, you haven't got it."

A this Dennis with a frown peculiarly his own, made another blake for the car and succeeded in getting on the platform, and thence to reply when Glossater interrupted:

"You may succeed in hoodwinking a few uneducated sand-lotners, but the people have tumbled to your racket; they know your game, and you may as well go back and turn your attention to draying, you will succeed better in the end."

Dennis made an effort to reply but the train pulled out before he had an opportunity to do so, and therefore, what he would have said must be imagined.

Another Scheme

There is a story afloat in Washington that Congress will be called to aid the South in a huge refunding scheme. The plan is, according to the story told, to guarantee the debts of the States whose bonds are below par, at a rate to be fixed, the remainder of the debt to be cancelled. In other words, all the old bonds will be cancelled, the new ones guaranteed at 3.5 per cent. interest, the amount of the new ones about equaling the market value of the old. The scheme is not very likely to be popular with any except those whose States are likely to be benefited by it. The scheme is supposed to have originated with certain politicians who have financial as well as political ends in view. It is pretty safe to assert that it will not "go down."

Deservedly popular

Unless it had great merit Parker's Ginger Tonic could not be so popular. Its sale has spread remarkably everywhere, because invalids find it gives them new life and vigor when other medicine fails entirely.

Ex-Governor Plaisted, of Maine, has bought another newspaper—this time in Augusta—and, it is said, will advocate the nomination of Butler for the Presidency.

ARTHUR'S ADMINISTRATION.

Feeling the Pulse of the General Public by Means of Letters.

A Chicago dispatch of August 3d says, in anticipation of President Arthur coming to that city, and it being his first visit since the Convention at which he was nominated for Vice President, and after having held the position of President for two years, the Daily News sent out a letter to a large number of people, asking their opinions on his administration. They included all living members of the Republican Convention which nominated him, all Members of Congress, both Democrats and Republicans, representatives alike of business and literary men, divines, college professors, etc. In reply between three and four hundred letters were received, which were published this morning, filling fourteen columns in very fine type. Nearly all of them are more or less cordial endorsements of his administration. Among them are flattering endorsements from Charles W. Warner, George William Curtis, Henry Ward Beecher, Harriet Beecher Stowe, D. L. Moody, Senators Frye and Dawes, Richard Smith and Marat Halstead, the Cincinnati editors, Senator Henderson of Indiana, Green B. Baum, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Hon. Frank Pixley of California, Brick Pomeroy, J. B. Belford of Colorado, and "What are we here for?" Flanagan of Texas. Mark Twain gives his endorsement as that of one fifty-millionth part of the population, and advises the editor not to make up his mind till he has heard from the 49,999,999 others in the country. M. E. Stone Young, editor of the News, says it is not intended as a political boom for Arthur.

The French Count

Count De Chamboard has so far recovered that daily bulletins are no longer issued by his physicians. Among the stories regarding his illness is one to the effect that his seriousness was greatly exaggerated and that he was never really in any danger. Whether this is true or not, it is indisputable that the Legationists did their best to take advantage of the occurrence to work up a monarchical "boom." There were pilgrimages to Lourdes and other ceremonies in vocations of Divine aid, of which the most peculiar feature was that politics and religion were so curiously blended that some of the most jolliest Atheists in France took a full share in the business.

POLITICAL

The adoption of a law similar to the Scott liquor law is being agitated for the State of New York.

The Illinois Greenback State Committee is called to meet in Peoria, August 17, to organize for future work.

Thirty-six persons received one or more votes for United States Senator in the joint convention of the New Hampshire Legislature.

Two important measures are now before the Georgia Legislature—one forbidding Sunday excursions, and the other providing for local option as to the sale of liquor.

The Little Rock, Ark., Gazette, a Democratic paper, predicts that both political parties will take their candidates for President from points west of the Alleghany Mountains.

"The biggest strike of the season is yet to come," says the Philadelphia Times, "viz., the people of Pennsylvania striking against a do-nothing Legislature pocketing $3,000 a day, Sundays included."

Ex Senator Wallace of Pennsylvania, is said to aspire to the Democratic nomination to the Presidency. During the time he has been in private life he has rebuilt his fortune and is now thought to be worth $3,000,000.

As the campaign progresses, we may expect to see the Democratic platform shortened thus:

July—Tariff for revenue only.
August—Tariff for revenue.
September—Tariff for—October—Tariff—
November—Inter Ocean.

The Text Plenie

The Miner's Union of Storey county will have a picnic in September. Yesterday a committee was canvassing the town for subscriptions, trying to raise the small sum of $100 and at last accounts only got a trifle over $80. Steamboat is offering excellent inducements for the picnic and Reno is standing in with Steamboat. This town ought to have enough pride about it to defeat such a combination as Reno and Steamboat. Reno has scambouted us several times before and we ought to wake up. It would pay the Carson Guard to make up the $20 still needed for the sake of having a chance to shoot over their own range in the rifle contest. If the picnics once get in the way of going to other towns it will be hard to get them back. The committee will be down again this week.—Carson Appeal.

THOSE WOMEN FOLK.

How Hard-Headed Men Estimate Some Things Which They Don't Understand.

Anybody who has led a domestic life knows how common such things as the backache, and pains in the chest, are among the women who do the work. Often—and perhaps generally—the distresses are borne without much complaint. The women get about, and the machinery of the house goes on. Beyond this, those coarse-grained animals whom New England women call "the men folks," seldom look. So long as their wives or daughters are not actually in bed, under the doctor's care, the average thick-skinned husband and father gives the subject no attention. At the same time the poor household drudges—who deserve a better fate—creep around, broom or utensils in hand, up stairs down stairs and out-of-doors, doing that woman's work, which "he never done." Losses of loved wives and fair girls low whose suddenness and unexpectedness astonish those wooden-pated husbands and fathers—fall, seemingly out of a clear sky, and form the logical sequel to the story of neglect. Now, you men who stand at the heads of ten thousand such homes, allow us to drop a word in your receptive ears. If these women of yours are worth having, they are worth saving. That back-ache—that pain in the chest! What are they but indications of some organic trouble of the kidneys, the heart, or the lungs? End it at once by the application of BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER. It will soothe that nervous distress, drive away that pain, banish that dull, weary back-ache, give new strength to the body and fresh hope to the heart. No other plasters will do this. The Benson's Plaster, however, is not made to sell but to heal. It is a remedy which never broke its promise—and never will.

Your druggist has it. But before paying your 25 cents and putting the plaster in your pocket, look for the word CAPSINE cut in the middle.
